

COVID-19 Response

To Our Valued Customers and Suppliers:

March 20, 2020

In this unprecedented time, BioBlend is taking concerted efforts to make sure that we protect the health and well-being of our employees, customers and supply partners.

Based on our critical business support, BioBlend Renewable Resources has been categorized as an ESSENTIAL BUSINESS. As such, we will remain open and operational under direction of the State of Illinois guidance issued by the governor's office. Most of our supply chain partners remain open as well.

BioBlend continues to manufacture and supply mission critical Lubricants used in Health Services, Natural Resource & Mining, Industrial & Commercial Manufacturing, Transportation, Utilities and Food Grade Production facilities.

We are also incorporating CDC Business Guidance into our Coronavirus Disease response plan to mitigate workplace exposure to COVID-19, in non-healthcare settings.

Our main priority is protecting the health and safety of our colleagues, clients and team members while still providing valuable product supply to the industries we serve.

During these uncertain times, BioBlend continues to take proactive steps in supplying our valued customers.

Please do not hesitate to contact your BioBlend representative with any questions or if we can assist you in any way.

Sincerely

Samuel Burkett
